Сводка

The Account Manager is a specialized commercial role designed to address market complexity such as low disease awareness, patient identification challenges, or complex referral pathways. The role is primarily focused on demand generation through high-quality engagement with prescribing healthcare professionals, within assigned territory, Therapeutic Area, or specific brand. Working alongside Sales Representatives, V&A Field roles, and Medical (including MSLs), the Account Manager works towards optimal customer engagement in full alignment with Novartis values, ethics, and compliance standards.

In this role you will be responsible for a new launch in the NeuroScience therapeutical area.

About the Role

Major Accountabilities:

- Identify and prioritize opportunities within accounts based on patient, customer, and system insights.
- Drive development of consistent and insight-based account plans for priority customers and institutions, using deep understanding of the healthcare ecosystem, patient journeys, and stakeholder dynamics.
- Deliver high-quality, compliant customer engagement across face-to-face and digital channels by orchestrating tailored omnichannel journeys that create value, build trust, and support appropriate brand adoption.
- Collect, interpret, and share field insights on best practices, customer needs, market dynamics, and competitor activity.
- Ensure accurate and timely completion of CRM documentation and administrative requirements.
- Working closely with Value & Access and Execution Excellence to identify barriers to diagnosis, referral, access, and treatment initiation, and work with cross-functional partners to support solutions that improve patient outcomes.
- Partner closely with Field Force, Execution Excellence, Medical, Marketing, Value & Access, and other teams to share insights, align priorities, and co-create value for customers.
- Operate in full compliance with Novartis policies, industry codes, and local regulations, ensuring ethical and transparent conduct at all times.

Key Performance Indicators:

- Commercial performance vs. agreed targets (sales, growth, account contribution)
- Quality & execution of strategic account plans (planned vs. executed)
- Customer engagement effectiveness across omnichannel touchpoints (coverage, frequency, quality)
- Insight quality & relevance shared with cross-functional teams
- Progress against account-specific objectives (e.g. access milestones, pathway improvements where applicable)

Ideal Background:

Education:

- University degree in life sciences, healthcare, business, or a related field.

Languages:

- English preferred
- Swedish required

Experience/Professional Requirement:

- Relevant experience in pharmaceutical or healthcare sales or account management.
- Strong customer engagement and relationship management skills.
- Demonstrated ability to manage complex accounts and multiple stakeholders.
- Experience working cross-functionally with medical, access, and marketing teams.
- Ability to execute omnichannel customer engagement strategies.
- Commercial mindset with strong execution focus.
- Strong communication and interpersonal skills.
- Ability to work independently while collaborating across teams.
- Proven ability to incorporate digital/AI tools as part of daily work.
- High standards of integrity, ethics, and compliance awareness.
