Imagine being the expert who keeps life-changing therapies moving forward. As a Technician II, Maintenance & Reliability, you'll play a critical role in ensuring manufacturing equipment operates safely, efficiently, and reliably. Working in a highly regulated environment, you'll support maintenance, calibration, and continuous improvement activities that help deliver innovative medicines to patients. If you enjoy solving technical challenges, working hands-on with advanced equipment, and contributing to a mission that makes a meaningful difference, this is an opportunity to grow your career while creating lasting impact.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities

- Execute maintenance and calibration activities to ensure equipment reliability and operational readiness.
- Prepare tools, materials, and spare parts required for planned maintenance activities.
- Identify, manage, and maintain spare parts inventory to support uninterrupted operations.
- Perform work orders according to approved procedures, quality standards, and safety requirements.
- Support commissioning and technical projects to improve equipment performance and reliability.
- Update maintenance records and documentation within computerized maintenance management systems.
- Promote compliance with Good Manufacturing Practice, safety, and environmental standards.

Essential Requirements

- Experience performing maintenance, calibration, or troubleshooting activities within a manufacturing environment.
- Knowledge of Good Manufacturing Practice requirements and regulated operating environments.
- Ability to execute work orders following established procedures and quality standards.
- Strong understanding of safety principles and environmental compliance requirements.
- Experience collaborating across teams to support operational and maintenance objectives.
- Proficiency with Microsoft Office applications, particularly Microsoft Excel, for data tracking and reporting.

Desirable Requirements

- Experience with computerized maintenance management systems for work order and asset management.
- Knowledge of Total Productive Maintenance principles and continuous improvement practices.
