Are you passionate about helping organizations navigate complexity while strengthening trust, integrity, and business performance? As an ERC Manager at Novartis, you will play a critical role in driving Ethics, Risk & Compliance initiatives that protect our reputation, enable strategic priorities, and support sustainable growth. Working across global teams and diverse stakeholders, you will lead impactful projects, shape risk-based decision-making, and help foster a culture where doing the right thing is at the heart of everything we do.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities

- Lead Ethics, Risk and Compliance projects that support strategic business priorities and mitigate compliance risks.
- Enable and drive the local ERC program through business stewardship with the therapeutic areas and functions, supporting decision making, giving advice and training to associates when needed.
- Support the implementation of the local divisional ERC program through policy/tool/controls implementation at local level (Anti-bribery controls, Third party risk management, Professional Practices, Conflict of Interest) and local developments, codes and regulations
- Establish and oversee project governance, scope, timelines, and deliverables.
- Partner with country and cross-functional stakeholders to drive successful project execution.
- Monitor project progress and provide clear updates, insights, and recommendations to senior leaders.
- Strengthen compliance practices and promote a culture of integrity and continuous improvement.
- Support risk-based decision making through data analysis and actionable insights.

Essential Requirements

- Proven experience managing ethics, risk, compliance, or governance programs in a complex organization.
- Strong understanding of regulatory requirements and their impact on business operations.
- Demonstrated expertise in risk assessment, mitigation, monitoring, and compliance management.
- Excellent stakeholder management and communication skills, with the ability to influence across functions.
- Experience leading cross-functional projects and driving results through collaboration and accountability.
- Ability to analyze complex data and translate insights into effective business decisions.
- Fluent written and spoken English and Spanish

Benefits & Rewards
