Are you ready to shape the future of pricing and market access for innovative medicines on a global scale?

As Executive Director Pricing & Contracting, you will play a pivotal leadership role within the Immunology portfolio, driving pricing and contracting strategies that maximize patient access and optimize the long-term value of Novartis assets. Reporting to the Head of Pricing, you will serve as a trusted advisor to senior leaders and a strategic partner to Therapeutic Areas, Access, Health Economics and Outcomes Research, Finance, Strategy & Growth, and key markets worldwide. Leading a high-performing team of pricing and contracting experts, you will develop innovative launch and in-market pricing strategies, influence critical business decisions, and strengthen Novartis' position in an increasingly complex global reimbursement landscape. This is a unique opportunity to combine strategic leadership, market insight, and commercial acumen to help bring transformative medicines to patients around the world.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities:

- Lead and develop a high-performing Pricing & Contracting team while fostering innovation, talent growth, and organizational excellence.
- Develop and execute global pricing and contracting strategies that maximize access and long-term brand value.
- Serve as a trusted pricing advisor and strategic partner to priority countries and senior leadership teams.
- Partner across Therapeutic Areas, Access, Health Economics and Outcomes Research, Finance, and Strategy & Growth functions.
- Guide countries on pricing scenario analyses, innovative contracting approaches, and reimbursement strategies.
- Shape launch sequencing, pricing governance, and price implementation strategies across global markets.
- Monitor pricing policy developments, reimbursement trends, and market dynamics to identify risks and opportunities.
- Lead strategic pricing projects and generate actionable insights to support business-critical decisions.

Essential Requirements:

- 10+ years of senior-level experience in pharmaceutical companies, Health Technology Assessment agencies, healthcare consultancies, or related organizations.
- Extensive experience in pricing, market access, and commercial strategy across multiple brands and therapeutic areas.
- Strong above-country experience, including regional or global pricing and access responsibilities.
- Proven people leadership experience, including leading, developing, and retaining high-performing teams.
- Excellent analytical skills with the ability to synthesize complex information into actionable insights and recommendations.
- Strategic thinker with strong business acumen and financial understanding.
- Demonstrated success working across functions, including Therapeutic Areas, Value & Access, Strategy & Growth, and Finance teams.
- Experience preparing and negotiating reimbursement submissions, Health Technology Assessment engagements, and pricing strategies with payers in major markets, with proficient English both written and spoken.

Desirable Requirements:

- Advanced degree such as a Doctor of Philosophy, Master's degree, or equivalent qualification in Mathematics, Economics, Business Administration, Finance, Marketing, Health Policy, Health Economics, or a related field.
- Experience within the Immunology therapeutic area.
