Сводка

At Novartis, our ambition is to ensure that the right patients can access the right medicines at the right time — sustainably and responsibly. As Strategic Value & Access Manager (f/m/d), you will shape and deliver the local patient access strategy and play a pivotal role in pricing, reimbursement, and payer engagement across the portfolio.

You will turn healthcare system and payer insights into clear strategic choices, lead the development of value and reimbursement packages, and support negotiations that enable timely, optimal access for patients in Austria. This is a highly cross-functional role, working closely with Commercial, Medical, Finance, Legal, and global/regional partners to maximize patient impact and portfolio value.

About the Role

Key responsibilities

- Develop and execute the local patient access strategy across the product lifecycle (launch, new indications, line extensions, and loss of exclusivity).
- Lead pricing, reimbursement, and funding strategies in alignment with local frameworks, portfolio priorities, and global guidance.
- Prepare and coordinate reimbursement and value dossiers (including health technology assessment submissions where relevant) and ensure high-quality evidence packages that meet payer requirements.
- Translate payer, customer, and market intelligence into actionable business opportunities mitigation plans, and access solutions — and embed these insights into brand and portfolio plans.
- Plan and support payer discussions and negotiations building robust business cases scenarios and negotiation materials.
- Coordinate cross-functionally with Medical, Commercial, Finance, Legal/Compliance and other partners to align strategy, evidence, and execution (including health economics studies where needed).
- Monitor and communicate policy and competitive developments in the Austrian healthcare environment, including implications for pricing and reimbursement.
- Drive operational excellence: deliver access plans on time and within budget, and ensure compliant execution within the legal pricing and reimbursement framework. [
- Build trust-based relationships with key external stakeholders (payer organizations, hospitals, relevant agencies), representing Novartis with professionalism and integrity.

Essential Requirements

- Strong experience in Market Access / Value & Access with a proven track record in driving access outcomes through pricing and reimbursement levers.
- Profound understanding of the Austrian healthcare system, reimbursement pathways, and payer decision-making.
- Experience developing pricing and reimbursement strategies, supporting or leading payer engagements, and building robust business cases.
- Ability to translate clinical, economic, and stakeholder insights into clear access narratives and value propositions
- Strong analytical skills paired with strategic thinking; comfortable working with data, assumptions, and scenario planning.
- Confident stakeholder management in a matrix organization, with strong collaboration and influence skills.
- Excellent communication and negotiation capability; resilient and effective under pressure.
- Fluent in German and English (written and spoken).

Desirable Requirements

- Experience presenting to senior stakeholders and external payer organizations with strong executive presence.
- Ability to capture, interpret, and apply healthcare market and trend data to strengthen access strategy.
